In 2014, China accounted for 35% of the global nickel production (INSG Nickel Statistics, 2016)
While China produced in 2014 around 35% of the global nickel output, it accounts for 70% of the global nickel CO₂ emissions.
Specific CO₂ emissions per t of Nickel show significantly higher ratio in China than elsewhere – and lowest values in Canada, Western Europe and Russia.