Open Net Pen Freshwater Aquaculture in Georgian Bay and the North Channel of Lake Huron

Summary for the Bill C-68
Senate Committee April 9, 2019
Open Net Pen Freshwater Aquaculture in Georgian Bay and the North Channel of Lake Huron (open net fish farms)

- Background on the Georgian Bay Association (GBA)
- GBA Position on Aquaculture in Canada
- GBA Position on Bill C-68
- Negative environmental impacts of open net fish farms
- Examples of Harm caused by open net fish farms
Ongoing harm caused by an open net fish farm is visible from space 10 years after it was closed down.
This picture, taken by K. Hille in Sept 2006, shows the aquaculture cage and phytoplankton bloom at Lake Wolsey.
Open Net Pen Freshwater Aquaculture in Georgian Bay and the North Channel of Lake Huron

- Lake Wolsey
- Other Negative Environmental Impacts of Fish Farms
- US decision not to allow open net fish farms
- Applying the Precautionary Principle
- Recommended additions to improve Bill C-68